About Universitas Teknokrat Indonesia

In order to increase the contribution of the Technocrat Education Foundation in improving the quality of education in Indonesia, in 2015 the Technocrat Education Foundation took the initiative to increase the institutional capacity of the three higher education institutions (STMIK AMIK and STBA Teknokrat). In 2015 the Technocrat Education Foundation submitted a proposal to the Directorate General of Higher Education to combine the three higher education institutions that were organized and transformed into a university. The efforts and hard work of the Technocrat Education Foundation finally paid off with the approval of the merger of STMIK-AMIK-STBA Teknokrat to become a University under the name of Universitas Teknokrat Indonesia with Decree Number 494/KPT/I/2017 which came into force on 18 September 2017. The Universitas Teknokrat Indonesia held 3 faculties include the Faculty of Engineering and Computer Science, the Faculty of Economics and Business and the Faculty of Literature and Educational Sciences.
